

MIDDLE EASTERN Lesson Plan

MERHABA

Activity

1

Defining an asylum seeker and refugee.

Activate prior knowledge – Discuss the pupil's ideas and perceptions. Reinforce the understanding that a refugee is someone who has to leave their own country because they are afraid of being persecuted (abused or mistreated) because of their religion, political beliefs or social behaviour. When you are given refugee status after successfully applying for asylum in another country, you are allowed to live in that country, safe from harm.

Many people are refugees whether or not they have been officially recognised by the government of the country in which they are seeking asylum. Once a person flees their home country they become a refugee.

What is an asylum seeker?

Reinforce an asylum seeker as someone who seeks asylum (safety) in a foreign country and has applied to the government in the hope that they will be granted refugee status.

In talking partners discuss and note why you think someone would want to leave their home? Share ideas as a class. Use sheet provided to reinforce and develop possible reasons.

Learning objective

- To explore and discuss attitudes, myths and prejudices in a safe and structured environment
- To improve skills of speaking, listening and analysis

Activity

2

Sorting fact from fiction when talking about asylum seekers.

Before the class discussion it is important to emphasise that you will be airing some of the myths or issues pupils may be uncertain about. It is not about judging or criticising anyone. Everyone should be careful not to offend others.

Tell the children that the press sometimes will refer to asylum seekers negatively as 'taking over the country'. Discuss can you believe everything you read or hear?

Discuss prior knowledge about asylum seekers with the class. Think, Pair, Share.

Use the sheet provided to work out which truths match the myths and draw a line between them.

Do you now feel differently about asylum seekers to how you felt previously? Has educating yourself about this issue changed your feelings and opinions?

Learning objective

- To sort fact from fiction

Resources needed

Activity

3

How do refugees contribute to society?

Britain has a long history of providing asylum to refugees. Many different groups have been forced to flee their homes in the past. They have settled into British life and continue to contribute to the community.

Activating prior knowledge – Look at the photos provided and ask who has heard of the famous people in the photographs? Share thoughts using snowballing.

Facilitate class discussion about what the famous people might have in common. The answer is that they are all famous for their contribution to society in the UK, and they or their families are refugees.

Reflect with pupils on the answer and whether this challenges perceptions.

Split class into 6 groups and give each pair a 'refugee story'. They should read over their 'refugee story' so that they can become 'experts' on this person. The expert from each group will envy to other groups to share their knowledge.

At the end of the session as a class reinforce who the people are, why they are famous and that they or their families are refugees.

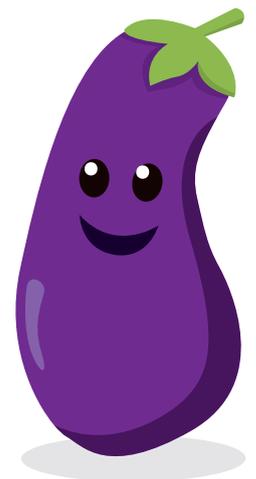

Learning objective

- To find out how people make a difference or contribution to life

Resources needed

- Photos of famous people sheet provided (R44)
- Refugee stories provided (R45)

Exploring prejudice facing refugees and to empathise with how they could feel.

Encourage pupils to sit in a circle and discuss the following: Name

What does your name mean to you? Have you ever chosen to be called something different e.g. a shortened name or even a nickname? Have other people ever labelled you instead of using your name? If yes, why do you think that they did it? How did it make you feel? What can you do to stop it?

Refugees arriving in the UK often face prejudice. Pupils may have come across this before in the media, in political debates or in the playground. It can be especially hard for refugee children to settle into a new school.

Split pupils into pairs or groups and hand out a photocopy of the poem provided to one member of each group to read it to the others.

Encourage discussion based around topics like 'What does she think about the label given to her?' 'What could people do differently to help Ruvimbo feel at home?'

? Big Question!

Should there be a limit on the number of refugees entering the UK?

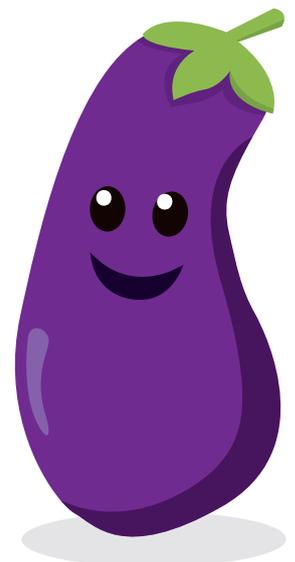

In recent months, chaos at border crossings and train stations, squalid conditions in makeshift refugee camps have all helped bring Europe's refugee crisis into the global spotlight. They are fleeing persecution, poverty and conflicts that rage beyond the continent's borders, but not all manage to reach safety – this year alone 2,850 people have drowned in the Mediterranean when trying to reach European countries along very dangerous routes.
